Research/Scholarly/Creative Activities Summary

(* denotes graduate student,  denotes data-based manuscript)

My research primarily focuses on studying trauma among historically marginalized, at-risk and underserved populations including: (a) children and youth and (b) sex trafficking utilizing complementary interventions and evidence-based outcome research for informing counselor training, research, and practice. Due to my graduate certificate in quantitative educational research, I also collaborate on projects that require my expertise in research methodology and contribute to researcher development.
